Dr. Sam Soon To Start His Term In Prison

Appellate Court Shuns Criminologist's Data As 'Sheer Guesswork'

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, convicted slayer of his pretty wife, Marilyn, started his journey to Ohio Penitentiary today.

Nearly a year after his arrest, he was taken from county jail by two deputies and placed in an auto shortly before noon.

Dr. Sheppard is under a life sentence for the slaying.

An appellate court yesterday turned down his second and final motion for a new trial, and one of the attorneys says the young osteopath feels he would get more exercise and privileges in prison than he does in county jail.

The motion denied yesterday was based largely on a criminology professor's affidavit that he found evidence a left-handed sex fiend killed Marilyn Sheppard July 4, 1954. Sheppard is right-handed. But the 41-page opinion of the three-judge court discounted the affidavit with such descriptions as "highly speculative and fallacious, sheer guesswork and supposition."

The affidavit was prepared by Dr. Paul Kirk, professor of criminalistics at the University of California. Last January Kirk made a private investigation of the crime scene, a bedroom of the Sheppard home in Bay Village.

DR. KIRK contended a prowler, trying to make a sex attack on Marilyn Sheppard, was bitten on the hand by the victim and left a drop of his own blood on a closet door of her bedroom. Although the blood was the same type as the victim's, it reacted differently in certain laboratory tests, he said. Judges Julius Kovachy, Lee Skeel and Joy Seth Hurd held that (Continued on Page Two)

$1 Minimum Wage Foes Seek Stopper

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republicans, aided by some Southern Democrats, sought to hold the line today on a minimum wage increase to 90 cents an hour, as asked by President Eisenhower.

As the House neared a show-down vote, Democratic leaders conceded they faced tough opposition in their efforts to boost the federal wage floor from 75 cents to $1 an hour immediately.

Rep. Kelley (D-Pa.), floor manager of the Democratic-sponsored wage bill, predicted the House would vote for $1. But he said there was strong support for a proposed graduated increase spread over three years.

This proposal, held in reserve by the Republicans, would hike the minimum from 75 to 90 cents the first year, to 95 cents the second year, and to $1 the third year and thereafter. A similar proposal was defeated by the Senate; they approved a boost to $1 an hour.

Administration forces, headed by Rep. Halleck of Indiana, were prepared first to try to whittle the $1 figure to 90 cents. Democrats favoring more than $1 were ready to counter with amendments calling for $1.10 and $1.25 an hour.

Mental Hygiene Council Meeting

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Ohio Mental Hygiene Advisory Council will meet with the director of the Ohio Division of Mental Health each month until the division's major staff problems are solved.

The state is searching for a commissioner of mental hygiene to replace Dr. Lowell O. Dillon and for superintendents of Longview State Hospital in Cincinnati and Hawthornden in Cleveland.

Dr. E. A. Baber of Longview and Dr. Guy Williams of Hawthornden are retiring Oct. 1. Dr. Dillon has resigned. The council is considering 15 candidates for the commissionership.

City Firemen Given Special Pay Fund

Council Approves Appropriation For Vacations And Overtime

Circleville city firemen were provided with a fund for vacation and overtime pay through an ordinance passed Tuesday night in city council's regular meeting. Safety Director Miller Fissell commended the action and said it was the first time in municipal history here that such a provision had been made for the firemen.

Council passed the measure unanimously. It was classified as an emergency measure and there was little discussion.

Another ordinance passed by council, but this time by a 6-1 vote, granted city policeman overtime pay of $1.15 an hour, an increase of 15 cents over the present rate. Councilman Ray Cook cast the only dissenting vote.

Fissell explained that city firemen had never been paid extra for "doubling up" during vacation periods nor for working overtime. He said that the fund would also provide for any extra firemen pressed into emergency service during a large fire.

THE MEASURE was classified as "emergency," Fissell pointed out, because vacations were already in effect. Some men might miss out if the ordinance took its natural 30-day period to become law.

The addition of 15 cents per hour to the overtime pay of city policemen will bring the rate up to the standard hourly pay they now get, Fissell explained. However, this

Legislature's Study Panel Eyes Problems

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Ohio Legislative Service Commission, which does research on legislative problems and studies between-session issues, has announced four fields into which it will delve.

1. Taxes and revenues.
2. Ohio's water supply.
3. Local government fund distribution.
4. Eminent domain laws.

The commission met yesterday and made plans for the 102nd General Assembly less than a week after the 101st wound up its final session.

The commission first will study the four state issues which likely will result in recommendations or bills to the 1957 legislature.

The issue of taxation will include studies of sales tax exemptions and the continued use of sales tax stamps.

The water supply situation will include a study of more dams and possible changes in the state's conservancy act.

The eminent domain study will be directed at state laws giving government units and private utilities the right to appropriate land.

Study committee members probably will be designated at a meeting a few weeks hence.

Legislative leaders have expressed hope that the studies will give future assemblies a head start and speed up deliberations.

Russian Ag Experts Seek Farm Secret

Soviet Experts Appear To Be Failing To See Obvious Answer In Iowa

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP) — Visiting Soviet farm leaders continued their search today for the magic secret of American food wealth.

This morning the dozen Russian agriculture chiefs set forth to see the workings of the Wilson and Co. meat packing plant. This afternoon, after being entertained at the Waterloo Chamber of Commerce, they paid a visit to the third Iowa farm on the schedule. It belongs to Guy Stover Jr., at Reinbeck, Iowa.

The Russians are proving students indeed. Yesterday they asked farmer George Hora of Washington, Iowa, who was host at a home-cooked dinner of fried chicken and three kinds of pies, to show them his account books. He obliged without hesitation.

The Russians, including statistical expert Boris Savelev, chief of the Soviet Union's farm planning, were delighted. They poured over the books.

Before that they had questioned Hora seriously about his farm machinery, his crop rotation system, his technique for fattening his hogs for market, and a hundred other things.

THESE RUSSIANS are intelligent men. They know a great deal about agriculture.

"They know exactly what questions they want answered," commented one Iowa farmer who listened yesterday to the questions they asked Hora.

Tire Retreader Hitchhikes To Testify On New Road Bill

ST. JOSEPH, Mich. (AP) — The nation's highway building program may reflect the thinking of a Michigan tire retreader who hitchhiked to Washington to give the lawmakers a piece of his mind.

The retreader is 29-year-old Paul Hassler of St. Joseph, who spoke up for "the little guy" before the House Public Works Committee last week. He left his business to three helpers and his pickup truck to his wife.

Although he appeared before a House committee, there was some indication yesterday that the Senate was taking the advice of Hassler and others to "slow up" in formulating the $48½ billion program and its parallel taxes.

"That's what I told them," Hassler said. "They were trying to do it (pass the bill) in too short a time; going too fast. I don't know what 48½ billion dollars is. But look how long they talked about and held hearings on the St. Lawrence Seaway before they did something, and that involved something like a 'mere' 100 millions."

"The way that bill was coming up," Hassler said, "it meant bankruptcy for me and 10,000 other little recappers. It would tax us to death."

"I'm not against taxes to pay the bill, but against the way they were going to be levied — making the trucking industry foot the bill. Why not spread 'em around among all the people who benefit?"

"Look at motels. They don't pay a penny for highways that benefit them. Contractors are going to benefit big, so why not slap a little of the tax on bulldozers, for instance? Highways benefit resorts too, so why not a few pennies a head on everyone who walks through their gates?"

Hassler complained particularly to the committee about a provision which would have based a recapping tax on the weight of a tire.

He said it should be on the weight of the material used. The House committee agreed and put it straight on camelback, a rubber compound used in recapping.

"I told 'em 'To hell with big business, it can look out after itself; you fellows take care of us little guys.' I got excited down there. I don't remember everything I said."

German Farmer Lauds U.S. Friends For Giving Help

COLUMBUS (AP) — A German farmer says "It must take a lot of love to give away a cow."

The farmer is one of many who have benefited from a unique program to help war victims overseas.

Instead of temporary relief by food, the Heifer Project, Inc., provides livestock to the needy. They are gifts that lay their own eggs or expand into litters of pigs and young heifers.

The project's board of directors met here today to discuss current aid for Austria and Germany. The letter of thanks was from one German farmer who already has received livestock.

The project was started by Dan

West of Goshen, Ind., a relief worker for the Church of the Brethren. He said grim memories of starving babies during the Spanish Civil War prompted the program.

West said 40 purebred Brown Swiss bulls sent to Iran have sired, by artificial breeding, 20,000 mixed-breed calves, one example of the way the project's gifts keep fattening themselves overseas.

The program also restores self-respect to destitute farmers, giving them a chance to become self-supporting citizens again.

West said $2 million worth of heifers, pigs, chickens, goats, turkeys and hatching eggs have been sent to 30 foreign countries.

Molotov Wondering If His Publicity In U.S. Is 'Good'

GENEVA (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, mello as a cello these days, confided to a number of the American delegation at the summit conference that he's out to make character with the masses.

The Soviet Sphinx is turning into a veritable publicity hound. Discussing his recent visit to the United States, the once stern and severe Molotov turned the conversation to that day last month in Wyoming when he posed in a 10-gallon hat.

"Did you see the photograph of me in an American cowboy hat?" asked the man who used to be known in Communist party ranks as "Old Stone Bottom."

The American, who asked that his name not be used, said he could not have escaped the picture of Molotov in the 10-gallon headgear—it was printed in so many papers.

"What did you think of it as publicity?" asked Molotov.

"How do you mean?" inquired the American.

"I mean was it good publicity, or was it bad publicity?"

Escape Artists Baffle Deputy

WHEELING, W. Va. — Deputy Sheriff P. O. Miller can't figure it out. Those two Ohio escape artists, Alfred L. Tucker, 20, of East Liverpool, and Donald N. Bishoff, 23, of Findlay, were thwarted in another attempt to break jail yesterday.

The deputy said one bar on each of their cell doors had been sawed through completely. Yet a search of both prisoners and their cells failed to disclose any sawing device, Miller said. Tucker and Bishoff escaped from the Mansfield Reformatory last May.

COLUMBUS (AP) — A nine-year-old Portsmouth boy was reported dead on arrival at Children's Hospital here today after having fallen from a trapeze bar in the basement of his home.

110-Volt Fence Kills Oakdale Boy

ATHENS (AP) — A 9-year-old boy picking berries was electrocuted near Oakdale yesterday when he touched a 110-volt wire fence. Sheriff George Bateman said the victim was Harry Perry Jr. of Oakdale.

Sheriff Bateman arrested George Yocum, 62, who had erected the fence to enclose his hound dogs. Yocum later was released, pending an investigation. Power company officials said 110 volts is normal house current and six volts usually is used for fences to enclose livestock.

Oil Billionaire Dies At Age 86

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Calouste Sarkis Gulbenkian, legendary oil magnate and one of the world's richest men, died today of a kidney ailment. He was 86.

Gulbenkian was one of the most mysterious men in the world. He shunned publicity of any kind and lived quietly in the hotel Aviz where he died. He had been ill since January.

In the oil industry, source of most of his fortune, he was called "Mr. G" or "Mr. Five Per Cent," a reference to his reported share of the profits of the fabulous Iraq Petroleum Co. He was rated probably a billionaire.

Big 4 Chiefs Hand Aides 2 Tough Problems

German Unity, Europe Security Issues Given Ministers To Ponder

GENEVA (AP) — President Eisenhower told today's meeting of the Big Four chiefs of state he is convinced Soviet Russia has the same desire for enduring world peace as the Western powers do.

The statement came as the top leaders send back to their foreign ministers the knotty problems of German unification and European security.

The President emphasized that East-West differences on the two great stumbling blocks must be worked out. He said the Big Four must show the world these problems can be solved.

The Big Four met for an hour and 45 minutes in their fourth session. They gathered after Eisenhower had a two hour private luncheon with Georgi K. Zhukov, Soviet defense minister. Simultaneously, it was disclosed that Eisenhower has called some of his top military advisers to Geneva.

IN TODAY'S meeting Russia proposed a European security program described as substantially the same as the one the Soviet Union presented at Berlin in February 1954. It provides for an all-European security pact (with the United States participating) to replace the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Warsaw Pact.

In advance of the afternoon meeting of the Big Four heads of government diplomatic activity went on full blast on a number of fronts.

1. President Eisenhower and his wartime friend, Soviet Marshal Georgi Zhukov, had a private luncheon at Eisenhower's lakeside villa. They were alone except for interpreters.

2. Soviet Premier Bulganin gave a luncheon for the other Western leaders, British Prime Minister Eden and French Premier Faure. Secretary of State Dulles represented the United States.

The Eisenhower-Zhukov luncheon was watched with unusual interest because of the personal relations between the President and the Soviet defense minister. The two have been carrying on private correspondence for some months, and the President made a dramatic appeal to Zhukov yesterday to wit-

DROODLES

By ROGER PRICE

"CANARY DOING BACKSTROKE IN BIRDBATH"

Herbert C. Stalling of Park Forest, Ill., thought up this Droodle but to me it looks more like the Canary has slipped on the soap and taken a header. Which is possible because in spite of the fact that Insurance Companies tell us more accidents happen in the bath than anywhere else, many people keep their birdbaths in a shockingly unsafe condition. If you are guilty take precautions. Put little rubber mats on the bottom of your birdbath. Install a hand-rail and tack up signs saying "No Horseplay," "No Moulting" and "Ducking Prohibited—Unless you are a Duck." After that hire a Sea Gull for a Life Guard and then you can truly say your bath is for the birds!

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a divorcee, a teacher, with children whom I am trying to support on my salary. My boy friend is 38, a bachelor and college graduate, employed in a traveling job. There have been times when he wanted to marry me, and times when I wanted to marry him, but they seemed never to coincide. Now I am expecting his child and when I found I was pregnant we had a disagreement. Foolishly and stubbornly I ignored all his suggestions, including marriage, thinking it would be best if we went our separate ways.

I had considered terminating the pregnancy. Now I want to marry and Ed doesn't; and since our disagreement he hasn't come to my home. I realize he would be doing me a favor to marry me, as I already have three children; but in the circumstances is it too much to ask for?

Nerves Frazzled
Perhaps we should have broken up sooner, but over the years I had become very attached to Ed. We have similar interests, like the same people and he was wonderful with my children and could even cope with my stubborn streak. But this past year I was overworked and overtired and increasingly disturbed by his visits, which were very like the weekend homecomings of a husband who happens to work out of town — although it seemed our relationship would never develop into marriage.

Recently he sent me a copy of your column of May 23, concerning a divorcee, past 40, who expects a child and considers suicide as she shrinks from exposure. I think he wanted to call my attention to the Florence Crittenton Homes which you mention, as offering sanctuary and plan-making help to unmarried mothers.

But my present hope is that this pregnancy, unwanted at first, may turn into a maturing experience for both of us, as man and wife. I am beside myself with worry and will deeply appreciate any help you can give me.

P.Y.
DEAR P.Y.: In all kindness may I say that your basis problem has to do with marked emotional immaturity—expressed in conflicting attitudes of irresponsibility, instability and dependency. All this you call your "stubborn streak." Only now, in the cost-accounting phase of a new series of reckless mistakes on the adult (and supposedly "free") plane of action, has it begun to dawn on you that the least painful way to live is to put your hand to the plow, and plow a straight furrow—to the best of your ability. But even now, your mind hasn't quite grasped that point. You are coming into focus, as regards social reality, very slowly, very foggy.

However, you ARE beginning to see the light, which is a favorable sign, in its implication that you do have the potential to grow into worthy womanhood — even though the cards seem stacked against you at present. In hoping that the pregnancy, unwanted at first, may be translated into a maturing experience for both you and Ed, as man and wife, you are taking the finest possible stand in the circumstances.

Appeal To Instincts
It is unfortunate that you and Ed are at odds just now, because the right "next step," as I see the picture, is for you to marry each other, in a quiet ceremony — for the sake of all the children concerned, if for no other reason. Ed seems to be an instinctively decent chap, despite his marked immaturity too. I believe he has the makings of real manhood in his character — inasmuch as he did suggest marriage when you first discussed this problem. Here is evidence that he isn't a craven, total escapist, as regards unforeseen obligations; that he is disposed to pay his just debts — and spare weaker creatures gross harm at his hands.

The situation calls for a thoughtful referee, to bring you and Ed together, in a mood of sympathy, good will and mutual understanding of difficulties. Your nearest Family Service Agency, or Florence Crittenton Home, should be helpful along this line.

M.H.

General Fund's Balance Drops; Taxes Due City

Circleville's general fund balance has dropped to little more than $7,000, Chairman George Crites of city council's finance committee revealed at Tuesday night's council meeting.

However, Crites quickly added that $10,901.89 is due the city from its share of real estate taxes. He said that the county auditor's office has promised this soon.

In addition, Crites pointed out that Circleville received only 25 per cent of a local government fund while the county got 75 per cent. The fund is supposed to where it is most needed, he explained.

"We don't think the $2,818.20 we got is enough," Crites declared. "The county got more than $9,000. We think we need the money worse than they do, and we're asking the prosecutor to review the split."

THE REGULAR financial report given by Crites—showing funds, receipts, expenditures and balances, was accepted as follows:

General fund, $4,424.00, 10,105.09, 7,034.62; Water Works Operation Fund, 4,534.47, 3,572.86, 38,644.65; Sewage Disposal Fund, 1,260.32, 1,266.89, 9,994.99; Auto St. Repair Fund, 512.94, 2,064.43, 10,787.60; Gasoline Tax Fund, 2,413.72, 2,059.70; Water Works Trust Fund, 70.00, 2,630.00; Police Pension Fund, 324.66, 16,559.39; Firemen Pension Fund, 125.00, 21,450.43.

TV Disneyland Dedication Proves Headache To Network

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK — Anybody who's ever found himself involved in small town pageants knows that the bigger the pageant the bigger the confusion. If the people at ABC-TV didn't realize that before, they knew it after covering the dedication of Disneyland at Anaheim, Calif., last Sunday.

To Art Linkletter, Robert Cummings and Ronald Reagan fell the unhappy task of running all over Disneyland, covering parades, people, ceremonies and places. It was too much for them and ABC's 29 cameras.

There were some amusing fluffs.

HOUSTON — "I thought it was the end," says Fred Raemer of a traffic accident which happened Tuesday.

BRIDGES BACK IN NEWS
IN 1949 AND 1950 the federal government spent four months trying to convict Harry Bridges of perjury and conspiracy. He was convicted on a charge of having perjured himself when he swore at his naturalization hearing that he had never been a member of the communist party.
The Supreme Court held that the statute of limitations had run out and the conviction was set aside. Bridges was born in Australia and has spent the last 20 of his 53 years as head of the International Longshoremen's union and the Warehouseman's union.

Now the government is trying again to ship Bridges back to his native land on charges that he once was one of the top men of the communist party. If a conviction is obtained again, appeals once more will run their weary course up to the Supreme Court.
Perhaps time has indeed run out on that old charge. But it never runs out on Bridges and his labor organizations. Many workers serving seagoing shipping have long been suspected of red domination, not only in U. S. ports but in most of the ports of the world. If that is true, the communists certainly could tie up world shipping in a crisis.
Perhaps the court case against Bridges should be followed by a broader program of regulation and legislation directed at labor groups suspected of subversive leadership. It would be a fantastic assumption that a majority of American workers favor red domination.

THE WAR HATERS
ENTERING HIS second term as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Admiral Arthur Radford goes to some pains to make the point that he abhors war. Radford had been credited in some dispatches as favoring a "get tough with Red China" policy that might include blasting the regime off the map with atomic bombs.
Radford repudiates such thinking in these words:
"The Joint Chiefs of Staff have had considerable experience in past wars and probably know better than anyone the real meaning of the impact of war. I really do not believe you could have a group of men who are more dedicated to the cause of peace and the prevention of war than the Joint Chiefs of Staff."
That is the position of most military men. But having expressed an academic hatred of war, the problem becomes how to avert it. No one in civil or military life has a plan to control the reds that can be relied on, so some military men take the stand that this nation's armaments should be increased and its firmness against the reds bolstered.
Others are for taking things a little easier and working more closely with allies who frequently resemble appeasers.
But, as Radford says, it is logical that those who know most about war will work the hardest, according to their lights, to keep out of it.

The day after President Eisenhower said he alone would decide about a second term, it was announced Mamie was going to Geneva.

Big Need Now: A Napeteria

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — What this country needs is half a million napeterias.
What is a napeteria? Well, actually it hasn't been invented yet. But it is something like a cafeteria and a garage.
In a cafeteria you serve yourself food; in a garage you park your car. But in a napeteria you park your tired old body, take the weight off your feet and mind, and serve yourself some sleep. In other words, it's a place where you can take a nap.
The napeteria is today perhaps civilization's greatest health need. As any doctor knows, half the tired feelings in America would disappear if people got one more hour of sleep every day.
The immediate query arises: "In that case why don't people get that extra sleep at home?"
And the obvious answer, of course, is that it is impossible. The modern home is a great

These Days
A basic theory of American capitalism is that competition among the largest possible number of persons produces the most consistently beneficial social results. Therefore monopoly of the ownership of capital has generally been regarded as harmful and the laws have been passed to make it difficult without impairing the efficiency of production and distribution.
Astute minds, in each generation, develop methods of evading anti-monopoly laws, but it has, to a very degree, been possible by various means of restraint and by the constant redistribution of wealth through higher wages, to increase the prospects of a constantly larger number of people to own wealth.

The theory and practice of the large corporation is that ownership is widely diffused, being held by thousands—in some instances, hundreds of thousands—of small shareholders. Thus while the corporation is a vast enterprise, the ownership of it is in a large number of persons who own only a small part of it. There is no concentration of wealth in such enterprises, although there may be a concentration of operational control.

However, there is an increasing tendency to create instruments for the concentration of capital which could, in time, absorb so large a share of the wealth of the nation as to imperil the capitalist system. These may be put into four categories:

1. The Foundation: This is a device now employed by individuals to avoid the total dissipation of their estates at death by inheritance taxes. It is employed by business firms to maintain continuity of management and to avoid dissipation of assets, particularly by firms in which an individual or a family owns a very great share of the capital investment. Family-owned firms are the worst sufferers from the inheritance tax.

By establishing a Foundation and turning over to the Foundation a large share or all of the capital assets, it is possible to keep the business intact and to maintain continuity of management. If this device is not used, it might be necessary to sell, in a forced market, valuable properties in order to get cash to meet inheritance tax obligations.

2. The Life Insurance Companies: Because of the really valuable service these companies perform and the confidence of the American people in their management, which in the mutualized companies is generally of the highest order, the life insurance companies do an enormous business, accumulate vast quantities of capital which they invest and add the profits to their capital.

Death in the United States averages at a much later age than is anticipated by any basic mortality table. Therefore the insurance companies enjoy a windfall in the longevity of their customers. The result is that in the insurance companies is an accumulation of wealth which is not distributed with sufficient rapidity to serve the capitalist system. The insurance companies generally recognize this and meet it by increasing dividends to policy-holders and by engaging in low-profit social investments such as housing.

3. The Welfare Funds: An enormous and automatic accumulation of capital in the various types of welfare funds is another and new factor in the process of concentration of wealth. This is complicated by a relationship to insurance companies.

This entire field is so recent in its growth and development that it has not been adequately studied nor is there sufficient legislation to restrain management. Already there are evidences of corruption and abuse. In this article, however, we are only concerned with the question of the concentration of capital and the men-

Amateur Lifesavers Should Follow Rules

QUICK action is necessary to save a person from drowning. At the same time, thoughtful action is required to save a would-be rescuer from drowning, too.
Weigh the chances of your success, before dashing into the water to swim to the rescue. There are other measures which are probably just as effective and usually much safer.

Long Branch
The Red Cross and other organizations recommend:
If the victim isn't too far from shore, try to reach him with an oar, a pole or long branch. If he's too far out for that, toss him a floating object such as an oar, a large piece of wood or a ring buoy. Maybe you can heave a rope to him.

Row out to him in a boat, if one is handy. Don't waste too much time looking for one, though. When the boat reaches him, pull him aboard over the stern. He may upset the craft if he clambors over the side.
Artificial Respiration
The victim may be unconscious and he may not be breathing. In such an event, apply artificial respiration while rowing ashore, if there is someone to assist you. In case you don't know how to apply artificial respiration, it will probably help if you just compress the victim's chest at regular intervals.

Once ashore, let someone who knows how begin artificial respiration. Don't waste any time trying to drain water from the victim's lungs. You'll bring out little if any.
Cover the Victim
Prevent loss of body heat by covering the victim. Give him hot coffee when he regains consciousness. Don't, however, force any liquids down his throat while he is unconscious.
Keep the victim lying down for some time until a doctor comes or until he feels that he can get up again. Then watch him to make sure he has full possession of all his faculties. It is best to take him to a hospital for a checkup if there is no doctor on the scene.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
A. W. F.: What will gallstones lead to if not removed?
Answer: Failure to remove gallstones may lead to severe infection of the gallbladder and possibly rupture of the gallbladder. Hence gallstones which are producing symptoms, as a general rule, should be removed surgically. Your doctor will decide just when the operation should be carried out.

Two Cadets in the Air Corps were piloting their planes above a huge training field in Texas, conducting a running conversation the while. One suddenly announced to the other, "I think I'm lost. That—commanding officer never did tell me how to keep my bearings. I think he's an imbecile. Boy, am I snafued up here!"
From the ground came a sudden interruption: "That is the C. O. Who's talking in that practice plane?"
Back came the answer, "Oh, no, you don't! I'm not that snafued!"
"You can't walk out on me like this," shrieked the circus proprietor to the man who, for eight years, had allowed himself to be shot out of a cannon twice daily without a word of protest. "Where could I find another man of your caliber?"

THE BOSS of BROKEN SPUR

By-Nick Summer
CHAPTER THIRTY-NINE
WAYNE CAMERON was a light sleeper. The sound of a horse approaching the Double Diamond ranch-house roused him. He slipped out of bed and pulled on his clothes in the dark, with the swiftness of practice. He wasn't anticipating trouble, but he played it safe by slipping his gun into the waistband of his trousers. As the tramping stopped in front of his door, he called, keeping his voice sleepy, "Who's there?"
"Mallory. Open up."
He lit the lamp and opened the door. "Evenin', Mallory. What brings you here this time o' night?"
"You're up late," Rob observed calmly.
"Just got in. Sick horse in the barn."
"Saves me waiting for you to get dressed. You're coming along with me, Cameron."
"Comin' where?"
"To the sheriff."
Wayne Cameron's weren't the kind of nerves to be jolted by shock; he'd kept alive too long by expecting the unexpected. The tone in which he answered Rob was as level as his. "What for?"
"For being an accessory to Joe Larrabee's murder—and a couple of other things I haven't figured out the legal names for yet. I'll leave that to Lacey, after he's heard what your girl and your partner can tell him. They're at Broken Spur now, waiting for me to bring you back so we can all ride into Sundown together."
"Where's your warrant, Mallory?"
"Here." One instant the gun had been resting in its holster; the next, it was in Rob's hand, bright and deadly.
With a sinking inside him, Cameron wished he hadn't sent Calder away. This was the one weak spot in his armor. He wasn't really good with a gun—as good as practice alone could make him, but he didn't have the instinct of a gun-fighter, and that lightning draw had convinced him it would be suicide to try to make a plain fight of it.
"Come on, Cameron, and don't try any fool plays. Make no mistake about it. There's nothing I'd like better than shooting you—except I happen to need you alive and talking. And that's the way I aim to deliver you."
With a cat-like leap, Cameron

Big Business Branches Out In Odd Fields

It's Getting Rare Now For Firm Name To Tell Its Principal Product

NEW YORK (AP)—A tire company is getting into the motion picture business. An automobile manufacturer is testing a radically new train. An oil company takes a flier in cosmetics. A household appliance company makes locomotives. A chemical company makes fabrics.

The big corporations are stepping out into so many fields these days that it's getting to be a rare one whose principal product can be identified by the corporate name. A subsidiary of General Tire & Rubber Co. is buying RKO radio Pictures Corp. from Howard Hughes. It was already interested in the television business, was a major producer of plastic sheeting and film, and a maker of rocket motors.

Its rivals in the tire industry are deep in diversification themselves. They make shower curtains and footwear, airplanes and chemicals, run cotton plantations and citrus groves.

Diversification as a corporate practice has flourished in the post-war world.

Sometimes it has grown out of the firm's original business. For example, a chemical company developed a new test tube mixture and finds itself in the textile business. Or a petroleum company finds the chemical byproducts of its refineries opening up an entire new industry.

Sometimes diversification is deliberate—an effort to find more than one basket for the profit eggs. For example, a maker of cold remedies takes on a cosmetics company as a hedge for the day when someone will find a cure for the common cold and make medical treatments obsolete. Or a watch maker, calling his domestic market disappointing, goes looking for firms in the precision instruments field he can buy up and improve his profit prospects.

Sometimes the diversification has come through mergers. A leading textile firm is planning to take over a telegraph company.

Sometimes it comes about through seeking consumer outlets for its primary production function. A leading steel company is deep into the kitchen cabinet field. And another has long been in the shipbuilding business. Oil companies are ship operators.

Myna Bird's Call Routs Burglars

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—A talking myna bird was credited with routing thieves in the midst of ransacking the office of Linda Foods, Inc.

Carl Hubner, the firm president, told detectives he had the myna, named Julius, in his office next to the one entered. Julius, he said, greets the firm's employees every morning by screaming: "What do you want? Let's go!"

The detectives figure that's what Julius did when burglars entered and that's why the burglars fled with only a dozen T-shirts and a few cans of boned chicken.

Telephone experts are already hinting that technological advances may enable the subscriber to get a number by merely speaking to it, without dialing and without human intervention.

New Ohio Coal Mine Is Opened

ST. CLAIRSVILLE (AP)—Work has started on a new soft coal mine in eastern Ohio, an official of Lorain Coal and Dock Co. announced today. The mine is expected to employ 300 to 400 men.

Preliminary excavation has been completed on the mine, located about three miles west of nearby Bridgeport on U.S. 40.

Digging of coal is expected to start Oct. 1 to supplement the diminishing coal supply of two mines at nearby Blaine, also operated by the Lorain firm. Ernest Schell, superintendent of the Blaine mines, said the new mine has about 4,000 acres of coal, enough to keep it in operation 40 years.

Dancer Seeking Damages In Wreck

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Damages of $58,000 have been awarded dancer Zona Fe for auto accident injuries she claims she sustained while a passenger in composer Vic Schoen's car in Las Vegas, Nev.

She charged that when she refused to let him kiss her he refused to let her leave the car, which overturned as he drove away at high speed. She alleged that she suffered back and leg injuries that prevented her from dancing again. Schoen denied making any advances.

Actress Suffering From Cancer Again

DUARTE, Calif. (AP)—After a complete evaluation of actress Susan Ball's condition, physicians at City of Hope Hospital have announced that she is suffering from a recurrence of cancer.

It was cancer that made it necessary for her right leg to be amputated 18 months ago. The hospital did not announce Tuesday where cancer has struck again. Unofficial but authoritative sources have said it is cancer of the lung. She has been hospitalized since July 5.

Jap Leader Says U.S. To Quit Bases

TOKYO (AP)—Plans are underway to reduce the number of U.S. Air Force bases in Japan from 40 to about 10, it was reported today by Shintaro Fukushima, director of the Japan Procurement Board.

The board is the Japanese government's clearing house for U.S. military needs in Japan.

A spokesman for the Far East Command said FEC headquarters "has no comment on the report."

There was no immediate comment from air force officials in Tokyo.

Councilmen Pass 8 Ordinances In Fast Moving 2-Hour Meeting

City councilmen, fortified with 100 per cent attendance, did an about face from their previous meeting when two were absent and sped through and passed eight ordinances Tuesday night.

At the regular meeting two weeks ago, councilmen were reluctant to pass anything except time as they recorded one of their shortest meetings—an hour and a half. Last night, they met only for two hours but got a great deal more accomplished.

Among the new ordinances passed are the following:

1. Hourly wage of $1.15 for overtime for city police.
2. A fund of $500 for vacation and overtime pay for city firemen.
3. $200 to the city service department for incidentals.

ORDINANCES passed, which were introduced at the previous council meeting, include the following:

1. $2,160 for salaries for the two deputy clerks in city court for the remainder of this year.
2. $250 for incidentals in city court.
3. $75 for witness fees in city court.
4. $2,000 for the maintenance and supply fund at the city sewage plant.
5. Appropriation of land to widen and extend S. Pickaway St. from Town St. to the southern corporate limits of the city.

Only one ordinance was set aside for another reading. This calls for the vacating of Alley No. 1 in the southeast of the city. Third reading is set for next council meeting.

A letter was read to councilmen from the plant manager at Container Corporation. He pointed out that employees of that firm are put in extreme danger because traffic leaving the plant backs up on W. Mill St. across the railroad tracks.

The letter asked council to request the city service department to erect stop signs at Western Ave. and Canal St. where they intersect W. Mill St. This, the letter pointed out, would allow Container employees to clear the tracks.

COUNCILMAN George Crites suggested the matter be referred to council's safety committee. There was no dissent to the idea.

Councilman Richard Penn gave a report on the progress of the codification of the city's ordinances. A special meeting is being arranged for next Tuesday on the matter.

Mayor Robert E. Hedges asked council to authorize City Service Director Dewey Speakman to employ an engineer to work on the standing water conditions on Dunmore Rd. in the south end and Cedar Heights and Atwater Roads in the north end. Councilman Harold Clifton's suggestion that Speakman get some estimates for next council meeting was approved.

In the waning moments of the meeting, Councilman Boyd Horn declared that he had received numerous complaints about the weed situation. Council decided to have Speakman request property owners to cut their weeds.

Also, Horn repeated his charge that alleys throughout the city were littered with refuse and have never been cleaned up. Council took no action on this.

Teenagers Face Robbery Charges

COLUMBUS (AP)—Four Columbus teenagers who sweep back their hair in the form of a ducktail were indicted yesterday for the robbery of a Fort Hayes airman, M-Sgt. Harold F. Lakey.

The four are accused of taking $21 from Lakey, commandeering his car and riding around with the victim locked in the trunk.

Cincy Buildings Said Radioactive

CINCINNATI (AP)—Owners of two Cincinnati buildings claim in a $70,000 damage suit that a leak in a platinum capsule containing radium has made the buildings radioactive and limited their use.

The suit was filed in common pleas court by Alf E. and Tesca Anderson and Robert and Lela Holz, owners of the buildings, against the Keleket X-Ray Corp.

The owners claimed the X-ray firm now is seeking to leave the buildings and is refusing to decontaminate them "so they can be used in the same manner they could be used when rented."

Car's Long Skid Ends In Canyon

HINTON, Okla. (AP)—D. O. Peeler, 25, was driving along U.S. 66 during a thundershower when his car went into a skid.

Trooper Art Corday quoted a witness as saying the car skidded 122 feet and dropped into a 50 foot canyon where it sailed 45 feet and landed on its front end.

Peeler climbed out of the smashed car, complaining of a sore neck.

Corday said no traffic regulations were violated.

San Diego Lashed By Tornadic Wind

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Tornadic winds, accompanied by heavy rain, demolished a business building and unroofed two houses and a church Tuesday at Borrego Springs, desert resort area in eastern San Diego County. The storm dumped 7.29 inches of rain on the area in 35 minutes. No injuries were reported.

Governor Pledges Support For $150 Million Bond Issue

COLUMBUS (AP)—Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche has pledged that he will lend his active support to a $150 million bond issue which will go before Ohio voters next November.

Approval of the bond issue would and a penny a pack state tax on cigarettes to finance construction of mental, correctional and educational institutions. One-half the bond issue money would be earmarked for mental and correctional construction.

Lausche said: "I join with Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem and House Speaker Roger Cloud in my belief the bond issue is worthy of adoption."

"Originally, I urged the bond issue cover only the money needed for mental institutions. Regarding that phase, I had no question whatsoever. But the universities and impoverished school districts who would be the beneficiaries of the rest of the money likewise are in need of help."

"In spite of the constructive use to which State Treasury surpluses were put in the past and the many new buildings which were erected, the state has not been able through surpluses alone to bring its building program up to the level where it meets the needs."

In addition to educational institution construction, the bond issue also is intended to finance a new state office building to bring many widely scattered state departments under one roof in Columbus. The state now is forced to rent office space in private buildings to house state offices. The new office building would be an addition to the State House and the 25-year-old state office building in Columbus.

The cigarette tax is provided for in the bond issue proposal itself and the levying of the tax would be automatic with voter approval of the constitutional amendment authorizing the bond issue.

A constitutional amendment is necessary because the state's debt is limited by a constitutional provision to $750,000.

Farmers Reminded On Milk Can Care

Dull, rough milk cans add three times as many bacteria to milk as shiny cans, says Frank Koval, Ohio State University extension dairy technologist.

Farmers need to inspect milk cans frequently for cleanliness and repairs needed. Broken seams in cans and lids make proper cleaning impossible and invite bacteria and sediment. Rust spots are sources of sediment and havens for bacteria. Milk stone that forms in cans contains large numbers of heat-resistant bacteria, too.

Sanitize all milk cans with heat, chlorine or other chemicals immediately before use. Koval advises farmers. And remember, cans must be clean before they can be satisfactorily sanitized, he adds.

Almost one fifth of the crop and grazing lands in the United States have been badly damaged by soil washing and blowing.

BIG CAR RIDE

Plymouth, the biggest car of the low-price 3, gives you the smoothest ride of the low-price 3!

If you appreciate the comfort and smooth ride of a big car, Plymouth is just the car for you! With either the thrifty 6-cylinder PowerFlow 117 or the high-flying Hy-Fire V-8, Plymouth conquers the road so masterfully you're apt to forget it's a low-price car.

Greater length for smoother ride: Because Plymouth is much longer and larger than other low-price cars, it gives you the smoother, steadier ride that only a big car can give. Over-all, Plymouth is 17 feet long!

New shock absorber mounts for more direct control: Plymouth's famous Oriflow "shocks," now longer than ever before, are mounted inside the front coil springs for direct 100% pillowing action. And new non-parallel control arms minimize body tilt.

Wider rear springs for greater stability: Plymouth's rear springs have been widened to a full 2½ inches (wider than on either of the "other 2" cars). This means far more twist resistance and less sidesway on curves.

New steering gear for easier handling: Plymouth's new low-friction steering gear gives you the easiest handling this side of Plymouth Power Steering. The wider front tread improves cornering and keeps the car more nearly level when turning.

Why pay up to $500 more for a car smaller than Plymouth?

Don't be fooled by the claims of medium-price cars that they cost practically the same as Plymouth. When you compare price tags, you'll find that, model for model, Plymouth sells for much, much less, and gives you more car for your money!

WASHINGTON (AP) — The West and Russia still are miles apart at the Big Four conference in Geneva, in spite of all the pleasant talk there.

For years the Russians have had three main goals and, as Prime Minister Bulganin made clear this week, they haven't changed:

1. To break up the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, of which the United States is the most powerful member.

2. To prevent the rearming of West Germany and keep it out of NATO. The NATO allies agreed to let it join this year.

3. To get American troops out of Europe and force the United States to give up its overseas bases.

What Bulganin proposed at Geneva is almost exactly the same thing that Russia's Foreign Minister Molotov suggested in February 1954 when he met at Berlin with the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France.

At that time the West wanted Russia to let West Germany be united with Communist East Germany.

In the 10 years since the war Russia has blocked every plea for German unification. At Berlin Molotov proposed that NATO be killed. In its place he advocated a new, 50-year mutual security organization of 32 European nations, but not the United States, which would have to get its forces out of Europe. Molotov said East and West Germany could join the new security organization until such time as they were united. Molotov didn't say when that would be.

The Western ministers said this was a scheme to bring all Europe under Russian domination. They turned Molotov down.

Now at Geneva Bulganin has dusted off the Molotov proposal and presented it again, with perhaps minor changes.

Bulganin offered exactly what Molotov had suggested in 1954—a security system for all European countries—with one variation: he would let the United States be a member. That sounded a little better, but then he said when this new organization was created all foreign troops would have to be withdrawn from the "territories" of European states.

That would force the United States to withdraw its forces not only from Europe but from European territories, such as France's North Africa, where this country has air bases.

So while Bulganin in one breath said he was willing to let the United States be a member of the new European security system he proposed, in the next breath he would forbid any U. S. forces in Europe on European territories.

In short, the United States for all practical purposes would be only an onlooker.

And what about NATO? It would be abolished and replaced by the new organization urged by Bulganin and Molotov. And when could Germany be reunited? Bulganin said not while West Germany is a member of NATO and not until Bulganin's new security organization was set up.

That would take years.

Parakeets, Popular Pets Here, Can Go Along On Vacation Trip

It seemed a fair tipoff the other day when a Williamsport man appeared at a Circleville auction and tried to sell a pair of parakeets.

The birds have become a widely popular household pet in the local area, reflecting a general trend reported from many other sections of the country. Thus, at this vacation-time of the year, many district residents have an important question in mind:

"Are parakeets good travelers?" A pet bird institute reports it is one of the most frequent queries received in the daily mail as millions of America's bird owners prepare for the summer tours.

The institute's reply: "Take your bird along with you, but follow a few rules based on common sense."

HERE ARE some of the do's and don'ts outlined by Buell Culver, executive director of the institute:

1. If you travel by car, keep your bird in his regular cage or a well-ventilated traveling box. Remove most of his jingling toys so the constant noise will not alarm him. Do not let him out while in the car. He may injure himself against the windows and fly himself, or dart out through an open vent or window.

2. Keep the cage out of direct drafts or direct sunlight, or keep part of it covered so the bird will have some protection.

3. Keep a supply of seed right on the floor tray of the cage. Do not cover the tray with paper because seeds may slide underneath. Don't worry about spe-posed, in the next breath he would forbid any U. S. forces in Europe on European territories.

In short, the United States for all practical purposes would be only an onlooker.

And what about NATO? It would be abolished and replaced by the new organization urged by Bulganin and Molotov. And when could Germany be reunited? Bulganin said not while West Germany is a member of NATO and not until Bulganin's new security organization was set up.

That would take years.

ace to the capitalist system in the United States arising therefrom.

4. The Government of the United States: As the Government expands its ownership and operation of production and distribution, it sets aside accumulations of wealth for these purposes. These accumulations come from taxes, fees and profits—but principally from tax money.

Government enterprises often function advantageously in relationship to privately-owned business because they pay no taxes, enjoy the right of eminent domain, not not adhere to the bookkeeping methods insisted upon by the Internal Revenue Service or the SEC or similar agencies.

These accumulations of capital are of such a nature that they are never re-distributed although in theory the whole people of the United States own them. If this theory abides for an increasing share of the productive and distributive instruments of this country, it becomes, by definition, Marxian socialism which is destructive of capitalism.

Man In Prison Sues For Divorce

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Russell G. Tongay, serving 10 years for manslaughter in the death of his swimming daughter, has filed suit for divorce from his wife. He says she no longer loves him. Kathy Tongay, 6, died in 1953 after diving from a 30-foot board on her father's instructions.

Gas Fumes Fatal To 2 Workmen

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—Two employees of the Mahoning County engineers' department were killed by gas fumes while cleaning out a sanitary sewer here yesterday.

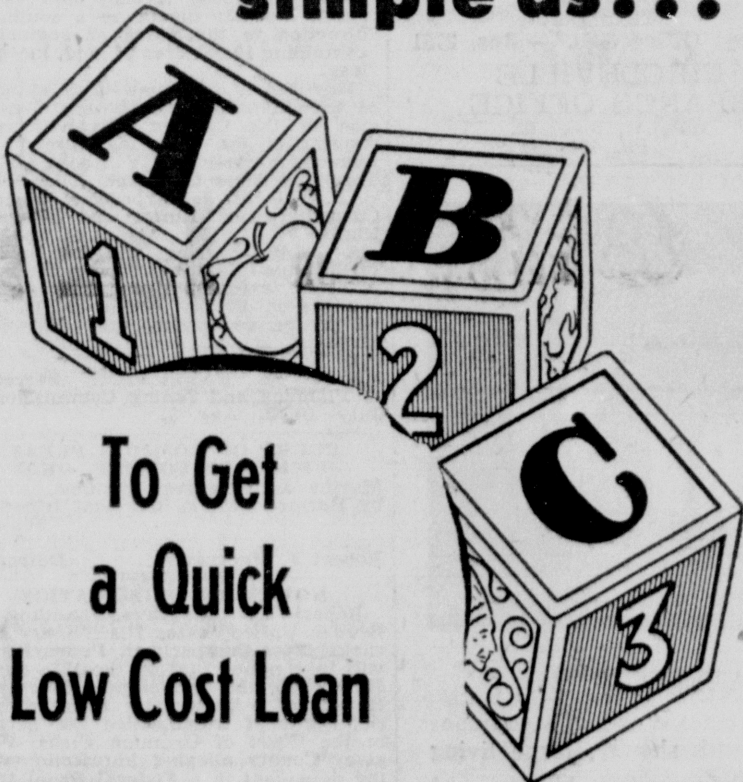

Frank Litizio, 52, and Sylvester Merletti, 68, foreman, were the victims. Litizio, first into the sewer, collapsed and Merletti went in to help him. He also collapsed. Both were dead in a matter of minutes.

Jilted Suitor Halts His Pacing; Maybe His Feet Hurting

LONDON (AP)—Whether love or aching feet conquered wasn't clear but the jilted suitor stopped his pacing.

Ronnie Hill, 31-year-old clerk, began walking back and forth in front of his ex-fiancee's home Monday. He said he had been engaged to marry Sally Willingale, 21, on July 30, but last week she told him it was all off.

"I'll keep walking until she changes her mind," said Ronnie. "I've loved her since she was 14 and I'll go on walking until I drop."

But Tuesday Ronnie disappeared from in front of Sally's walk without disclosing the outcome of his overnight march. Sally wasn't talking either.

Late Blight Found In Potato Fields

Late blight is damaging some commercial potato fields in Wayne County, C. C. Allison and J. D. Wilson, plant pathologists at the Ohio State University and the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station reported.

The specialists expect the disease to cause heavy losses in Ohio potato fields where fungicide sprays are not being applied at regular intervals. They recommend spraying every 4-5 days with zineb or every 6-7 days with Bordeaux mixture, to control the blight.

The same fungus causes late blight of tomatoes but usually appears later in tomato than in potato fields. In either case, prevention by applying the proper fungicides is the only effective control.

The specialists recommend fixed copper, maneb, or zineb to control late blight of tomatoes. Maneb is effective against anthracnose of tomatoes too.

Many lizards have tails that can be regrown if they are removed.

Hometown Boy Pacing Turney

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—The rest of the field was chasing the hometown boy today as the third round of the Western Amateur golf qualifying marathon opened.

Breaking into the halfway lead with a brilliant 67 for 138 — four under par — was Alex Welch, 35-year-old attorney who has won the Rockford city title six times.

One stroke behind were Harold Brink, 43, a used car salesman and four-time Grand Rapids, Mich., city champion, and 20-year-old Don Bispilghoff of Orlando, Fla., winner of the 1955 North-South crown.

Jerry Coleman Injured Again

CHICAGO (AP)—Jerry Coleman, the New York Yankees' hard luck infielder, was in Mercy Hospital today with a brain concussion and a possible skull fracture.

Coleman, who was placed on the active list yesterday after a three-month layoff with a broken collar bone, was struck by a pitched ball last night when the Yankees beat the Chicago White Sox, 4-3.

The Yankee second baseman was hit over the eye in the seventh inning with a pitch thrown by Sox righthander Harry Byrd.

GE Beats Elks By 8 To 7 In Pony League

Kochheisers Winner Over Frankfort '9; DuPont Victorious

Pony League's GE nine, which lately has been on a winning rampage, won a thriller-diller 8 to 7 from front-running Elks at Ted Lewis Park Tuesday.

In the Mosquito League, DuPont banged out a 20 to 7 victory at the expense of Chamber of Commerce. Circleville Kochheisers took an 8 to 5 Junior League decision from Frankfort.

In the Pony League affair, the Elks drew first blood with a lone run in the first. GE tied it up in the bottom of the second.

Elks took the lead again with a five-run burst in the top of the third. GE got three of those runs back in their half of the fourth.

IN THE SEVENTH, GE's Ray Phifer doubled home a run to make it 6 to 5 in favor of the Elks. He then stole third and scored the tying run on a passed ball.

The Elks again went ahead in the top of the ninth. However, GE's Bob Barnhart doubled home the winning tally.

DuPont jumped off to a fast lead and was never headed. Scoring six runs in each of the first two innings, they added eight more in the third.

Kochheisers also started fast, scoring seven runs in the first two frames. Frankfort could never catch up.

Shakeup Seen Coming For Lowly Redlegs

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Cincinnati Redleg lineup may be juggled before the Reds take the field tonight for a two-night double-header with Philadelphia.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts said he was contemplating such a shift after the Reds were drubbed by the Phils 7-3 and 6-2 in last night's doubleheader. It was the second twin bill dropped by the seventh place Reds in three days.

The Cincinnati manager said he was "going to sleep on it" before making any announcements on benchings and new assignments.

The once powerladen Reds could collect only 13 hits in the 18 innings of play as Murray Dickson and Robin Roberts racked up victories. The losses were pinned on Joe Nuxhall and Jackie Collum, supposedly the best of the Reds.

Nuxhall lasted less than four rounds in the opener and Collum was out of the game after the sixth.

The Phillies, who had won only two of seven previous encounters with the Reds, exploded 26 hits off six Cincinnati pitchers. Del Ennis was the big man in the opener, driving in four runs with a single and a homer. Roberts contributed a pair of doubles and was credited

Highest Paid Indians Goof Against Nats

CLEVELAND (AP)—The two highest paid Cleveland Indians, pitcher Bob Lemon and outfielder Ralph Kiner, were the targets of conversational brickbats from die-hard fans today.

For those two were at their worst last night when the Indians took an 8-1 drubbing from the seventh-place Washington Nationals and dropped back another game to four behind the front-running New York Yankees.

Kiner bobbled an easy fly by Clint Courtney in short left field in the fourth inning to open the door to five unearned runs. There were two out and two on when the ball popped out of Kiner's glove.

Jerry Snyder, on second with a double, came home and a moment later Carlos Paula singled in Mickey Vernon who had walked.

A single by Roy Sievers and Eddie Yost's double brought in three more runs and sent Lemon to the showers.

It was the 10th straight game Lemon has failed to finish. He's completed only five of 21 starts. Last season he led the league in complete games with 21.

Bob Feller, who came into Sunday's opener against Boston when the Tribe was behind 6-0, replaced Lemon after the Indians trailed 7-0 and Washington had rapped out nine of its dozen hits.

Feller pitched hitless ball for an inning and a third, but after he had departed for a pinch hitter in the fifth, the Nationals scored again. They got a run in the seventh off Ray Narleski on a walk and Snyder's single.

Detroit Rookie Is Hitting Hurler

DETROIT (AP)—Babe Birrer, Detroit's rookie righthander, qualifies as a hitting pitcher. He's been up nine times and has three hits, all for extra bases, two homers and a double.

The home runs came yesterday after he relieved Frank Lary in the sixth in the Tigers' 12-4 victory over Baltimore. Each of the homers was good for three runs.

Atlanta

The Atlanta WSCS will postpone their annual picnic and July meeting until August 17. Families invited to attend at 7 p. m. on the church lawn.

Among the members of the Perry Twp. Farmerettes to attend the Jr. 4-H Camp at Tar Hollow this week are Mary Ann Bartel, Jeri Skinner, Cheryl Martin and Patty Kempton.

Roger Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fox enlisted in the U. S. Army on June 20. His address is Pvt. Roger Fox R. A. 15541246 Co. B, 46th A I B; 5th Armored Division, Camp Chaffee, Arkansas.

Jack Armentrout of Clyde returned to his home after spending vacation with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Earl Armentrout.

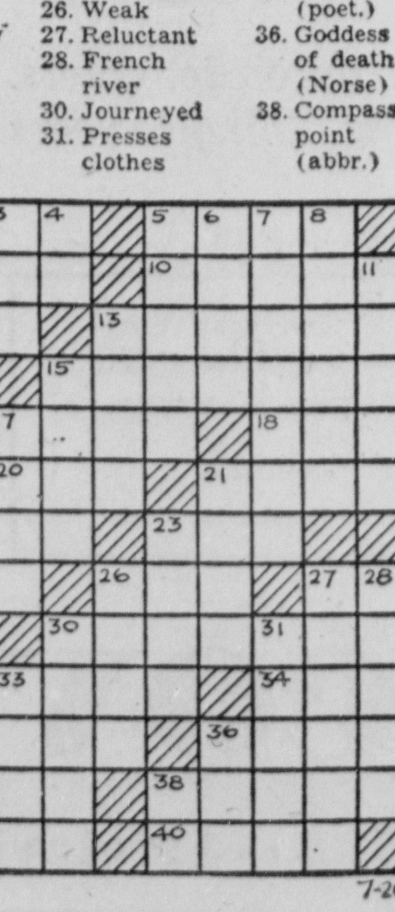

Mrs. Delbert Remy and daughter Barbara were business visitors in Columbus on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Morris have as their house guests Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bland of Pinegrove, W. Va. On a recent Tuesday, they were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ger-with three runs batted in, including one forced home on a walk he was handed with the bases loaded. It was Roberts' 15th victory and upped his lifetime record against the Reds to 22-11.
